

Week One Rocky Railway

Extra Activity Ideas

Draw a basic train engine and cut it out of poster board or card stock.

Decorate with markers, crayons, stickers, etc. Cut paper towel rolls for wheels. Make slits in the wheels so you can slide the train in. You can also do train cars and a caboose!

Run the track inside or out. The picture example is made of pool noodles, but you can use anything. Strips of cardboard, rope, sticks, ribbon, chalk on the sidewalk or driveway. Use black electrical tape to design a track. You can run the track being careful not to touch a cross piece, you can jump from space to space, you could number each space and count as you run. Have someone use a stopwatch to time your run. Work to get a better time!

Post pictures of your trains and tracks on Laurel's Facebook page.

Paint a Railroad Crossing sign. Use a paper plate, yellow and black paint, markers and or crayons.

Build a train out of cardboard boxes—us all sizes and shapes.

Make a fingerprint train and use a marker to fill in details. Cut different shapes out of construction paper and glue it into a train, paint rocks and set them along a marker track. What other ideas can you think of?

Graham cracker train - the train pictured uses cookies and candy. You could also use fruit --banana slices for wheels, blue berries, raspberries, or strawberry slices in the train car or use veggies - cucumber slices for wheels grape tomatoes for the train car, pepper slices and peas for the smoke stack. Turn it into lunch with lunch meat for the engine and train cars---or cut bread into train car shapes and add peanut butter---use your imagination and enjoy!

Week One the Bible story is about a shipwreck. So, let's make a boat! There are so many types of boats we can build. You can use craft sticks, sponges, plastic water bottles, and even sticks you collect in the yard. Make all kinds of boats and experiment to see which ones float the best. Below you will see several examples of boats to make. If you cut the sponge so one end has a point will it float better? Find recycle materials and use to create your own ideas. The best boat will be the boat you design and create yourself. You can use 1/2 of a paper plate to make a boat. Or you use shapes to create a boat. You could use a black outline and fill in with tissue paper (painting with paper!). Follow this link to learn to fold an origami boat. <https://youtu.be/vNba3jbBSOw>

Which one would do best in a storm? Post pictures on Laurel's Facebook page!

Boat Fruit Snack: A banana boat, blueberry water, orange for a sunny day, could do banana slices or mini marshmallows for clouds. You could do pineapple chunks or mandarin orange slices for the sun. Any kind of melon for the sail. Yum, enjoy!
